

Shari Deevers represents Union City where she completed her high school education, before earning a bachelor's degree in career technology at The Robert Miller College and a master's degree in education technology at Western Michigan University. She lives in Tekonsha, Michigan where she raised her two children.

Shari's passion for working with students and watching them grow into young adults has been the driving force in her 14-year career at Kellogg Community College, where she currently holds the Regional Center Director position. In her role, Shari primarily works with dual enrollment and early college students.

Along with a successful career in education, Shari has served on many boards as a member including Calhoun County Trailway Alliance, Paul Harris Fellow Award, Michigan Area Regional Community College Centers, and as President of Coldwater Township Sunrise Rotary.

Shari loves to volunteer for youth programs, primarily Agricultural Environmental Wilderness Expedition where she served 10 years as their leader, and the Back County Wilderness Hiking with students in eighth through twelfth grade.

Aside from working in education and serving the community, Shari's many interests include traveling, riding bikes, and spending time with family and her Labs!

When asked to share of her love for Branch County, Shari said, "Branch County has so much to offer and so many great organizations that help all to that need. I am so glad to be part of this community and the people that continue give back; either in service or by donating to the needs."
