Ten reasons to discuss philanthropy with your clients

1. You'll be surprised how many clients are searching for a way to give back to the community, to honor or memorialize a loved one or simply make a positive impact.
2. Clients agree that philanthropy is no more personal than any other decision that advisors help them make. Financial and estate planning includes discussing all the things clients can do with their money. Philanthropy is one of them.
3. Clients expect you to bring it up.
4. You can discuss philanthropy with your clients discretely, without judgment, in a way that respects their privacy, values and autonomy.
5. It expands the menu of services available to your clients, thereby increasing their level of satisfaction with you and your firm.
6. It showcases your broad range of professional expertise.
7. It increases the potential for new referrals and thus opens the door to new clients.
8. It marries your chosen profession with your desire to make a positive impact in the community.
9. It helps address important community needs, and helps make our community a more equitable and vibrant place to live, a real legacy for future generations.
10. It's good for your clients, it's good for your business, it's good for society and it's good for you.

Starting the Conversation

When you talk about charitable giving with your clients, they will understand that you see them as multifaceted individuals whose goals include more than acquiring wealth and/or minimizing taxes. You can acknowledge your clients' values and the role these values play in their lives and plans for the future.

These questions may help you easily start a conversation about charitable giving:

- What do you appreciate most about living in Branch County or Colon?
- What, if anything, would you do to make the area better if you could?
- Do you volunteer for a local nonprofit, or have you considered it?
- If your loved ones pass away before you, what would you want to happen with your estate?

Why refer clients to BCCF?

- If your clients want to invest in the community where they've lived, worked, and raised their families, they can be sure their gift will support the community forever.
- It's easy to give to the Branch County Community Foundation. We accept a variety of assets, which other nonprofits may not be able to do.
- If your clients have multiple charitable interests, they will appreciate being able to support the whole community with just one gift.

Fund Types

Any of these fund types can be established anonymously or in your client's name, family name, the name of someone they wish to honor, or a descriptive name that is meaningful to them. Your clients also may choose to give to existing funds.

Charitable Instruments

There are a variety of giving methods tailored to your client's unique situation. Each individual and family we work with has unique charitable interests and unique financial circumstances. Our BCCF team helps you make the most of both for your clients.

Cash - The simplest method of giving is to send a personal check.

Appreciated Securities - When you give long-term appreciated securities, not only do you receive an income tax deduction equal to the market value of the securities, but you also avoid capital gains taxes on the growth of that asset.

Real and Personal Property - A residence or other real property may be given as an outright gift, or you may prefer to give your residence, farm, or vacation home and retain the right to occupy it for life. Personal properties such as paintings, library books, coin collections, or musical instruments are also assets you may wish to consider as possible gifts to charity.

Life Insurance - When you give a life insurance policy to charity, the tax deduction will be based on the policy's present value (total premiums paid) or its cash surrender value, whichever is less. Any premiums you continue to pay after your gift are also deductible.

Charitable Beneficiary - Designation Naming the Community Foundation as a beneficiary in your life insurance or retirement plan is easy to do, and the gift that results will benefit our community in a lasting way. Making the Community Foundation a beneficiary of your IRA or qualified retirement plan also avoids the income tax that your estate would have paid.

Bequest - By Will You can designate a gift or portion of your estate to the Community Foundation and, in some cases, receive a substantial reduction in federal gift and estate taxes.

Charitable Remainder Trust - You can place cash or property in a trust that pays annual income to you (or other beneficiaries) for life or a term not to exceed 20 years. Either at the end of the term or after your death, the remainder of the trust transfers to the Community Foundation and is placed in a charitable fund you have selected. You receive income tax benefits in the year you establish your trust.

Charitable Lead Trust - You can place cash or property into a trust that pays a fixed amount to the Community Foundation for the number of years you select. Once this period ends, the assets held by the trust are transferred to the beneficiaries you name. In some cases, you receive a substantial reduction in federal gift and estate taxes.

Tax-Free Charitable IRA Transfer* - You can make a gift of up to $100,000 by transferring IRA assets to the Community Foundation. You must be at least 70 1/2 years old. If married, each spouse can transfer up to $100,000 from their IRA.

*Donor Advised Funds are not eligible to receive tax-free IRA transfers

We rely on our investment managers to steward these funds with a long-term mindset, which includes managing volatility thoughtfully and avoiding reactionary shifts based on short-term market trends.

Sample Will & Trust Language

Suggested Will Language

One suggestion that some estate planners have for charitable gifts is to insert the following clause in every will that includes a charitable bequest:

I instruct that all of my charitable gifts, bequests and devises be made, to the extent possible, from property that constitutes "income in respect of a decedent" as that term is defined in the Internal Revenue Code.

General Will Language

I direct that all remaining assets comprising my estate (or a percentage, fixed amount, or particular asset) be distributed to the Branch County Community Foundation with the request that such funds be utilized for purposes I may have from time to time recommended to the Community Foundation in writing during my lifetime.

General Trust Language

I direct that all remaining assets comprising the trust estate (or a percentage, fixed amount, or particular asset) be distributed to the Branch County Community Foundation with the request that such funds be utilized for purposes I may have from time to time recommended to the Community Foundation in writing during my lifetime. The wording in the General Language paragraphs is the preferred language because it allows your clients to address multiple charitable interests and provides the opportunity for them to revise their wishes easily without incurring the costs of a codicil being added to a will or revising a trust document. However, if your client desires to have the name of the fund(s) included, examples for specific fund types are available along with wording that is appropriate for a gift to an existing fund.
